¹Please interpret ABS ratings across disciplines with caution. As the Methodological Guidelines advise, “...readers of the AJG are cautioned against simply counting the number of 3 and 4-rated journals in a particular field, and comparing the result with other fields.” Scholars have also noted, “For instance, the requirements for publication at the ABS-3 rank in entrepreneurship could be very different than at the same rank in economics. Using a non-comparable scale is quite a limitation.” In particular, since the ABS is primarily used in business schools, it packs some non-business disciplines into one category (e.g., Economics, Econometrics and Statistics, Social Sciences, as well as Regional Studies, Planning, and Environment) while breaking down Management into specific fields (e.g., HRM, Strategy, and Innovation).
